Committee Promises Fine Celebration

Armistice Day in this city on Friday, November 11th, will be an event of importance, judging by the program which is being prepared by the committee in charge.

Colonel John N. Jenkins of the Monterey Presidio will officiate at the corner stone laying of the memorial. Not only has the stone for the memorial been donated, but also the funds for construction costs are assured.

John P. Prior, Commander of Peninsula Post of the American Legion, will also assist in the corner stone laying.

The committee is now in correspondence with several good speakers, awaiting the acceptance of an invitation to make the principal address of the occasion, and it is likely that two clergymen will be asked to attend.

The Eleventh Cavalry Band will furnish the music, and Col. Jenkins' staff will be in attendance.

Arrangements will be made for the transportation to and from Carmel of veterans of Pacific Grove and Monterey.

All places of business here should make plans to close, at least during the ceremonies.

Club Awards Building Contract

The contract for the construction of the club house for the Carmel Country Club was awarded last Monday afternoon by the Board of Directors to M. J. Murphy, whose bid for the work was the lowest of three submitted, and more than one thousand dollars less than that of the highest bidder.

Bids have also been submitted for the tennis court construction and for the septic tank which is to be located on the grounds.

The Directors have made formal application to the Palo Alto Mutual Building and Loan Association for a loan to cover the construction costs, and it is believed that the loan will be made and the building begun within three weeks.

The charter membership roll is to close on November 1st according to the present plans of the directors, and it seems unlikely that the charter roll will be kept open after that date, as two extensions of time have already been made.

C. Sumner Greene, the club architect, will have the supervision of construction of the new building. Members of the club desiring to inspect the plans for the building may do so at the office of the Carmel Development Company.

There will be an illustrated lecture at Carmel Church at 7:30 tomorrow night on "Birds of California." A bird record by Kellogg, the California Bird Man, a reading by Miss A. A. Johnson, and also a record of "The Mocking Bird" will be part of the program. The slides are furnished by the University of California. Admission will be free and everybody is invited.

Pine Needles

Mrs. E. A. Kluegel has secured three lots on the Point, from which a beautiful view of the valley may be had.

Herbert Heron, who has been visiting his mother in Los Angeles for the past three weeks, has returned to Carmel.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Crane have decided to spend the winter in Carmel. They recently came down from San Francisco.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hunt are soon to be guests of Mrs. E. Frances Clanton. Mrs. Hunt was formerly Miss Helen French.

Artist William Ritschel has departed for New York, from whence he will shortly start on his wandering trip among the South Seas.

The Leonard-Perry and Basham buildings, on Ocean avenue, are nearing completion, and both will probably be occupied before the month is out.

It is reported that Seventh avenue and North Camino Real property owners are about to petition the Board of Trustees to improve these thoroughfares.

Edward J. Sullivan has returned to Los Angeles. He expects to be in Carmel again by November 1st with a party of friends and will remain for several months.

The Coast Valley Gas and Electric Co. are making some improvements in the Carmel service. New transformers are replacing the old ones on Monterey Hill.

Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Kuster have returned from a prolonged stay in the south. During his absence Mr. Kuster was elected President of the Forest Theater Society.

Mrs. Clara Smith Lawler of Playa has purchased a home site in the Eighty-Acre Tract. The property includes three beautifully wooded lots. Mrs. Lawler expects to make her home there.

In his browsing and searching about for material, formerly the property of Carmelo Mission, it is said Father Mestres has recovered the rug upon which Junipero Serra knelt to receive the last sacrament.

Mrs. Isabelle Bunting has returned from Los Gatos much improved in health. While there she stayed at Panorama Farm. As the name would indicate, it affords a beautiful view of the valley. It is near the home of Rutli Comfort Mitchell.

Mr. and Mrs. Landon C. Rose, who have been spending the summer and fall in their beautiful rock home at the Highlands, have returned to Chicago for the winter, but will take up their residence once more at the Highlands during the coming season.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. E. Beardsley are leaving soon to winter in Honolulu. As a leave taking to her many friends, Mrs. Beardsley entertained at tea last Wednesday and Thursday. Mrs. Beardsley is a charming hostess, and both afternoons were declared to be most delightful.

D. W. W. Johnson and wife are leaving this week for a visit in Los Angeles. They will motor.

Noah A. Whitney, who has been spending several weeks in Los Angeles, is once more at his home in Carmel.

Miss Lillias Johnston has purchased property on Carmelo avenue, near Thirtieth, belonging to Mrs. Laura Maxwell.

From Pasadena come Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Starr. They are at the Highlands and would certainly be a welcome addition to the resident colony.

Married—Leonard Johnson, aged 33, native of Sweden and resident of Carmel, and Ellen Berglund, aged 25, native of Sweden and resident of Carmel.

Associated with Harvey A. Russell in donating the stone for the proposed Memorial Fountain on Ocean avenue are Edward Hatton and Fred A. Wernuth.

Among last week's Carmel sojourners were Mr. and Mrs. Dunning Rideout of San Francisco. Mr. Rideout is the brother of Henry Milner Rideout, the novelist.

Mrs. Ronchi is spending a few weeks in Carmel. Her husband, who is editor of San Francisco's leading Italian newspaper, "L'Italia," will join her in a day or two.

Honeymooners took possession of the Glassell cottage last week. They are Mr. and Mrs. Herford Sharon, and came straight to Carmel after the marriage ceremony in Piedmont.

Perhaps Mars is talking to us. For two weeks past radio operators on the Monterey Peninsula and elsewhere have been hearing strange, long-continued and unaccountable noises.

Election officers for the bond election on November 22nd have been appointed as follows: Herbert Heron, C. O. Gould, Miss E. Lichtenthaler, Mrs. W. L. Overstreet, Mrs. C. B. Leidig.

Parties from San Francisco were in Carmel last week intent upon establishing here a cafeteria lunch room. Among other innovations they plan to deliver hot cooked food in any part of the city.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Duffus, who have been in one of Mrs. Maxwell's studios for the summer, have returned to San Francisco. Mr. Duffus is the author of one of the most successful novels of the season, "Roads Going South."

The "Daute" number of the Catholic World has amongst its contributors Michael Williams, who used to live here. Mr. Williams and his family are now residing in Washington, D. C., where the one time newspaperman is editing a magazine.

Mrs. Phil K. Gordon recently enjoyed a motor trip as far south as Pasadena. She was accompanied by her stepson, Jack Gordon. Mrs. Gordon is taking this opportunity of hunting up some Spanish tiles for her beautiful new home soon to be started on San Antonio avenue.

Arts and Crafts Winter Activities

The Carmel Club of Arts and Crafts are planning an "Evening of Stunts" for Halloween. There is to be an Art Section, under the charge of Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Botke, who will give a series of animated pictures. E. R. Mosher and T. V. Cator will also have some new stunts. The Boys' Club, under the Social Service Section, will contribute some numbers.

The club has taken in several new members recently, and the coming entertainment will furnish an opportunity for all to get acquainted. It is suggested that those attending wear or carry something suggestive of Halloween—a witch's cap or broom, a black cat, a Jack o' Lantern.

A busy winter is in prospect. The directors are considering the advisability of adding a gallery to the Arts and Crafts Hall. This would give an opportunity of holding art exhibitions apart from the main body of the hall and would make a very good permanent addition.

Miss Eunice T. Gray and Miss Bertha Somerville are serving tea every afternoon in the hall. It is hoped that the public will become vitally interested in the art exhibitions and other activities which the Arts and Crafts Association fosters.

Vagabond Marionettes Tomorrow Night

An entertainment which promises to be one of the most unique of the season will be given tomorrow night at Manzanita Hall. This performance has given rise to much favorable comment in San Francisco and other cities in which it has been given.

Aside from the fact that it is original with the producers, it is carried out with every attention to detail and artistic effect. The puppets—nine in all—have fairy cognomens that take one into the spirit of the play. Willie Dribble, Rumpelstiltskin, the villain Melaspmi, Caramba, the Dragon, Pierrot and Pierrette, are cast in the leading parts and their acting is characteristic of true artists.

Miss Helen Peabody and Miss Vera Pilat have been touring the Pacific Coast, paying their expenses out of their theatrical venture. The former holds a degree in Fine Arts from Radcliffe College, and after completing her tour will return to her home in Boston where she will continue her work in landscape painting. Miss Pilat, whose home is on Santa Barbara, intends going on with the development of the marionette show, following the ideals of Gordon-Craig.

The young ladies have been camping along the road during their trip and the only male member of the party is "Pops," who is their valiant protector. "Pops" is a fine dog.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Corner Fenhagen are spending their honeymoon at the Highlands. Mrs. Fenhagen, who was overseas in the Red Cross service, has with her a French war orphan. Mr. Fenhagen was for some time in the Philippines as a government architect. After their stay here the couple will go to Baltimore to make their home.

BOOKS AND AUTHORS

In "Six Short Plays" John Galsworthy gives us a group of playlets, most of which are "satiric trifles." Two, "The Little Man" and "Defeat," have appeared in other collections—the one a realistic allegorical comedy of the unconscious and unobtrusive hero contrasted with more assured but less genuine altruists; a "modern morality" that is marred by the eerie dialect which Galsworthy, who ought to know better, puts into the mouth of his American. The other is one of Galsworthy's poignant visions of the spiritual tragedy of the German marooned in England during the war.

Of the other four "Hall Marked" and "The Sun" are light in intention and execution. "The First and the Last" reaches the scope of tragedy in its theme of a man, apparently a weakling, who becomes a murderer and is urged by his respectable brother to let another, who is accused of his crime, pay the price. The ne'er do well commits suicide, leaving a confession, but his brother burns it and lets an innocent man hang in order to preserve the outer coating of the family honor.

The last, "Punch and Go," is a very effective brief satire on popular play production. The six plays are in the nature of sketches from the artist's note book. They make no great contribution to the author's fame, but as he is a genuine artist, they are as well worth reading as a master's sketches are worth looking at.

Louis N. Parker, author of "Pomander Walk," who has a new theatre (in his head), has the following to say about what plays to put on:

"What shall we play? What shall we not? Understand that my company will consist of faddies and gentlemen who make acting a profession; not of young people for whom it is a charming hobby in the intervals of golf. So they will be ready for anything. My theater will be a museum of the drama, in which the old and new will be equally at home. We will play Shakespeare, not according to Mr. So-and-So, but according to Shakespeare. But we will play Shakespeare only in reasonable doses. Strange as it may seem, we have other dramatists. There is a magnificent repertory, 'to all intents untouched.' We sneer at many plays our father enjoyed, because we have not seen them, just as our sons will sneer at plays we think are upheaving the world. We will make room for the new, but we will honor the old. There may be good in Sheridan Knowles."

* * *

"Heart and Soul," by Maveric Post, is frankly, a plea, and a stirring eloquent plea, for cultivation of the heart and soul; for a realization of how cheap is the current cynicism which denies all deep feeling and all affectionate associations. The sex emotions are not the only valid emotions of life. It is a book especially for youth and for worried fathers and mothers.

Constructive Program Suggested For Our Forest Theatre

By Preston W. Search

The most promising dramatic event of the past five years is the present auspicious revival of interest in Mission celebration and therewith in the offer of Garnet Holme to produce an annual super-play. Carmel, to hold its own as a dramatic center, must base its presentations on histrionic elements peculiar to its unequalled environment, in which local endowment we are so rich as to leave little excuse for wandering into lesser fields.

The Forest Theatre Society was born to present original prize plays; it was pioneer in California dramatic activity; an extraordinary coterie of literary men and women was at its christening, and its early success attracted the attention of the entire country. Since then we have partly sacrificed our exalted vision; the removals of time and the drafts of war, together with unsympathetic criticism, have lost much of our personnel; the management, transitional and temporizing, has not held to the original specific purpose. We need a re-construction to our work in creative expediency, giving re-incarnation to the great opportunity so intrinsically centered in Carmel-by-the-Sea.

To put on plays that can be better done elsewhere, or that are merely entertaining, is not the mission of Carmel; to attempt anything but super-drama is not worthy of our endeavor or reputation. In ordinary plays we cannot compete with metropolitan centers, where hundreds of successive presentations leads to increasing effectiveness; but in super-drama, Jove-sprung from the soil, no place on earth can compete with Carmel. "The Play's the Thing"; but we must have only Great Plays, and they must be of Carmel.

I have seen all the plays for nearly ten years. Unfortunately I was not here early enough to see Mary Austin's "Fire", Perry Newberry's "Toad", nor "Twelfth Night"; and I was also east at the time of "Junipera Serra". Of those I have seen, the biggest in conception and sweep was Herbert Heron's "Montezuma", although most inadequately coached and presented. The most beautiful and appropriate was the Robert Louis Stevenson Masque, "Tusitala". The finest Children's Play was "The Piper"; and the most pleasing personal characterization was that of Joseph Hand, the dean of Carmel players, in "The Man from Home".

Possibly no one in Carmel has been in better position than the writer to sense the outside interest in our greater plays. In my lecture "With Painters of Pictures and Writers of Books", purely a local reference and given in the cities of many states, I have characterized these plays. The most commanding interest, surpassingly great indeed, has been in our Mission dramatization and in our Robert Louis Stevenson festival. University and literary people, from all over the country, have repeatedly written me asking when they might expect our next Stevenson celebration. Heron lies opportunity for something transcendent and truly worth while.

Speaking only as a single citizen and interested only in Carmel's best, I strongly recommend to our dramatic society, a three-fold program:

1. A great Mission Drama, in Carmel, the soul-center of all California Missions. Why should we permit the greatest Mission Play to be anywhere else? Is not this the birthplace and Mission center? During the immediate period of the Restoration such a Drama might well be annual; but I doubt its continued success, when so frequently presented in a center of lesser population. Why not learn from Oberammergau's "Passion Play", which is presented only every ten years? And why not make this a Dramatic Mecca of Expectant Pilgrimage?

2. This is the Stevenson Country; and pre-eminently here in Carmel, say every five years, should be a regular Robert Louis Stevenson Festival. Nothing could be more appropriate and nothing would so draw to our midst university and literary people from everywhere. "Tusitala" was beautiful—more than beautiful. Lloyd Osbourne, Stevenson's literary executor, who was in the audience, said, as he wept, it was the finest thing he ever saw. The play's second night was infinitely better than the first. With rewriting and repeated renditions we could improve on it and make Carmel pre-eminently renowned by our claim on its presentation. I repeat it, this is the Stevenson Country, and we should honor his name and ourselves by a Stevenson memorial worth while.

3. The Society does well to return to its call for original manuscripts. If anything, the prize offered is not enough. We could well afford to offer $1000. Our best writers can not work for a pittance. We need an undertaking worthy of our metal and our faith. Our local people have been losing interest because the plays are not big enough. The audiences in attendance have been dead and unresponsive. We need greater objective and a revival of community devotion. I cannot too strongly express my personal conviction that, with due utilization of our local producers who have done most excellent results, we should regain the services of Garnet Holme. He is the most remarkable coach I have ever known. A marvel in handling details, in emphasis of high lights, in intelligent cuts, in elimination of weaknesses and in speedy massing of results, he is a dramatic Colossus. The plays of Garnet Holme are classics.

To argue that the original plays did not pay, and that such a program as this would be too expensive, is not conclusive. The early dramas were given in times when Carmel was only a village and our people then had little money. It is remarkable that the successes were as great as they were. Given the opportunity of today, the plays would have been phenomenal.

Be that as it may, we stand today between our past and our future. Either we must surrender our golden opportunity to other a setting places, or we must hold to our heritage and move forward to a Carmel of literary dramatization second only to the religious Oberammergau. But above all, we must stand for a Carmel of inspirational Creation, not only in Drama, but as well in Allied Literature, Art and Music. In time, I trust, we can reach a prize contest in original material to which advocacy one household (and there are others) stands primarily committed; but just now, we have in hand a dramatic situation. "The Play's the Thing", by all means let us have the Greater Drama.

Esteemed Couple Celebrate Anniversary

Wednesday of last week was the fifth anniversary of the wedding of Dr. and Mrs. Charles A. McCollom. Except one son, all the children and grandchildren were present for the celebration. Ralph McCollom came up from Pasadena, and Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Rollo arrived from their home in Seattle. Mr. and Mrs. Harry McCollom of Chicago, who expected to come from the East, wired that owing to pressing business Mr. McCollom would be unable to make the trip. Mrs. McCollom's sister, Mrs. Ellen R. Veblen, of Palo Alto also came down for a few days.

The anniversary dinner was served at 5 o'clock at the home of Mrs. George Clute, and the reception was held at the McCollom home on Casanova street, where the friends of the couple came to enjoy the bridal cake ceremony.

Boys' Club Growing

The Boys' Club, under the leadership of Miss Ida A. Johnson and Miss J. M. Culbertson, is booming. Twenty-four lads attended a recent meeting, with but three absentees. Joe Mora entertained the club Tuesday night in his usual breezy and interesting style.

The boys read and play games, with now and then a stunt of some kind to give variety to the meetings. Of course, the "cats" always follow. They are very loyal to their club and seldom allow anything to interfere with their meeting night. Miss Johnson and Miss Culbertson say that some of them get great pleasure out of the books and magazines they get through the club. "Scientific American" and "Popular Mechanics" are great favorites.

tor and his wife, some from Pasadena, others from their old home in Minneapolis, were received.

ORDINANCE NO. 40

AN ORDINANCE CALLING AND PROVIDING FOR, AND GIVING NOTICE OF, A SPECIAL ELECTION TO BE HELD IN THE CITY OF CARMEL-BY-THA-SEA, CALIFORNIA, ON TUESDAY, THE 22ND DAY OF NOVEMBER, A. D. 1921, FOR THE PURPOSE OF SUBMITTING TO THE QUALIFIED VOTERS OF SAID CITY A PROPOSITION TO INCUR A BONDED DEBT BY SAID CITY OF CARMEL-BY-THA-SEA, FOR THE ACQUISITION OF CERTAIN REAL PROPERTY FOR, AND IN SAID CITY FOR PUBLIC PARK AND PLAYGROUND PURPOSES THEREOF.

WHEREAS, the Board of Trustees of the City of Carmel-by-the-Sea, on the 4th day of October, A. D. 1921, by a vote of more than two-thirds of the members of said Board, to wit, by the unanimous vote of said Board, did adopt a resolution determining that the public interest and necessity demanded the acquisition of certain real property hereinafter described for and in said city for public park and playground purposes thereof, the cost of which, to wit: $15,000.00, would be too great to be paid out of the ordinary annual income and revenue of said city, to wit: $7,000.00 or thereabouts.

NOW, THEREFORE, the Board of Trustees of the City of Carmel-by-the-Sea, do ordain as follows:

SECTION 1: A special election is hereby called and ordered to be held in the City of Carmel-by-the-Sea, State of California, on Tuesday, the 22nd day of November, A. PLAYS AND PLAYS

Montrose J. Moses, a noted writer on stage subjects, has edited an invaluable compendium of famous plays under the title "Representative Plays by American Authors." It is the first volume of this work, and carries the reader from the middle of the nineteenth century to the present time. The text of a score of the most famous plays are given in full, including "Rip Van Winkle," "Francesca di Rimini," "Love in '76," "Paul Kavanagh," "Shenandoah," "In Missouri," "The Moth and the Flame," "The New York Idea," "The Easiest Way," and "The Return of Peter Grimm."

This book should be read—and will be appreciated—by every play lover. The texts of many of these plays have all but been lost, and their preservation in this volume is of the utmost interest. Then older plays are as interesting historically as they are dramatically, and considered as a contribution to stage literature its importance cannot be over-estimated.

"Bluebird's Eighth Wife" has been adapted by Charlton Andrews from the French. Except for one scene, perhaps more daring than usual, it offers no valid reason for objection on the ground of immorality. The one scene was enacted with skill and provoked nothing more unusual in the theatre than laughter. There was nothing shocking and it remains only an amusing French farce, given an excellent production by William Harris, Jr. The story is about a spirited French girl who has been sold by her father, a mercenary old Marquis, to the highest bidder, who, in this case, is an egotistical, self assertive and domineering American millionaire. Mouna is his eighth wife. The others he has bought have been cast aside when they have ceased to attract him further. At last he has found, he thinks, the woman he really loves, and then Mouna proceeds to teach him a lesson.

Mrs. Ednah Aiken's war drama, "The Hate Breeders," has been purchased by the Mission Film Company of Hollywood and screen production of it will begin immediately. The play is regarded as of especial value as an argument for disarmament. Clarence H. Geldert of the Lasky-Famous Players is president of the company.

"We are beginning a crusade," says Mrs. Aiken. "The Mission Film Company has bought 'The Hate Breeders,' which is aimed at the prevention of war, and it has taken an option on all my work for the next two years. We are going to try to do something for the improvement of pictures."

X X X

Tom Cushing has made a passable dramatization of Blaso Ibanez's second popular Spanish novel, "Blood and Sand," and Otis Skinner, with a cast of ability, has acted the stage version with such power and effectiveness that it promises to become far more popular than the majority of Mr. Skinner's recent plays. The story need not be recounted here, as the book was second only in popularity to this author's famous "Four Horsemen." Mr. Cushing first reveals his hero at the beginning of his fame when he has conquered Madrid. Another less heroic sight of him follows in the second act, which is devoted to the home life of the aristocratic lady who has fallen a victim to the physical charms of the torador. Later scenes show his gradual decline from the head of his profession. In these incidents the dramatist has followed closely the outline of the novel.

ASKS INDEPENDENCE WITH OR WITHOUT PROTECTION

Manila, P. I. — The people of the Philippines want independence in whatever form they can get it, Manuel Quezon, president of the Philippine senate, declared in an address before that body.

"Let the Americans in the Philippines and those in the United States know that the people of the Philippines covet their freedom, liberty and political emancipation so much that they will not hesitate to receive from the Congress of the United States complete and absolute independence without protection," Quezon said.

"If the United States, dictated by its own interests, decides to extend protection to the Philippines, well and good. We would accept that as a solution of our problems. If not, let us have absolute independence in whatever form we can get it."

President Quezon declared that if the question were put before the Filipinos for a vote, 98 per cent would favor absolute independence.

Type of Pavement Not Yet Selected

Ocean avenue property owners who attended the adjourned meeting of the city Board of Trustees on Tuesday night were disappointed in that the type of pavement for the improvement of Ocean avenue was not adopted. This, notwithstanding the fact that a total frontage of 2500 feet, 2690 feet had petitioned for concrete. The petition, along with a letter from Contractor Miller outlining tentative specifications for the mixture of concrete, was referred to City Engineer Fisher. One of the board members questioned the advisability of using certain of the material specified by Miller.

A petition was presented from Seventh avenue property owners for a new road similar to the ones running north and south. The petition was referred to the property owners more signatures.

"The Right Kind of Child."
Give a little love to a child, and you get a great deal back. It loves everything near it, when it is the right kind of child—would hurt nothing, would give the best it has away, always, if you need it—does not lay plans for getting everything in the house for itself, and delights in helping people; you cannot please it so much as by giving it a chance of being useful, in ever so little a way.—John Ruskin.

Sunday's Outing

Thoroughly Enjoyed

Last Sunday over a hundred "Carmel lights" gathered at Point Carmel upon the invitation of Leonard W. Perry, and after enjoying a perfectly cooked and served barbecue, his guests voted him the ideal host. The barbecue was but the beginning of the day's proceedings.

Two baseball teams were organized among the men and women and soon a spirited contest was in progress, with Ernest Schweninger and Winsor Josselyn captaining the respective teams. There were many casualties, Argyle Campbell, Eliot Boke, Theodore Caley and Kathryn Pinkerton, being among the wounded.

Even the lame and the halt, however, could not resist the jazzy strains of the live piece orchestra which Mr. Perry had on hand at Rancho La Playa for the dance, which followed the dinner, which followed the ball game, which followed the barbecue, at the end of a perfect day.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph W. Hicks were pleasantly surprised at their home last Friday night. Games and dancing were indulged in, and at midnight a delectable repast was served.

Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. R. Lawson, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Fratties, Mrs. M. Ems and family, Mrs. Garner, Miss Alice Armstrong, Clyde Johns, Tony Davis, William Grasker, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Ramsey, Eleanor, Helen and Waldo Hicks.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Shaw are here from Hollister for a fortnight's vacation. They have the De-Yoe house.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC WORKS

Notice is hereby given, that the Board of Trustees of the City of Carmel-by-the-Sea, in the County of Monterey, State of California, did, on the 4th day of October, 1921, pass a resolution of intention to order the following work to be done to wit:

To close up that certain lane or alley extending from San Antonio Avenue to Scenic Road opposite the westerly end of Ninth Avenue in said city, and lying between Lot 19 Block A1 and Lot 1, Block A2 in the Sixth Addition to said city, as the same are marked, shown and designated upon the map of said sixth addition to Carmel on file in the office of the County Recorder of said county. That no land is deemed necessary to be taken therefor, and no district of lands will be affected or benefited by said work or improvement, and none shall be assessed to pay the damages, costs and expenses thereof for the reason that it is proposed in the closing of said lane or alley to exchange the lands occupied thereby for a strip of land of like dimension lying along the southerly side of said Lot 1 in Block A2.

For further particulars reference is hereby made to said resolution of intention on file in the office of the city clerk of said city.

Any person interested objecting to said work or improvement may make written objections to the same within ten days after the expiration of the time of the publication of this notice, which objections shall be delivered to the said city clerk.

ARGUST ENGLUND,

Superintendent of Streets of said city.

ANNUAL MEETING

THE Annual Meeting of Carmel Chapter A. R. C. will be held on Wednesday, October 26, 1921, at 3 p. m., in the City Hall, for the election of five Directors, consideration of and action upon reports, and transaction of such other business as may properly come before the Chapter.

Everyone who has paid one dollar or more is a member and is urged to be present.

C. A. McCOLLUM,
Chairman Carmel Chapter A. R. C.

The Pine Cone has a well equipped job printing plant.

New York has been hearing a coloratura of the purest quality and vastest range in Josephine Lucchese, said to be a convent bred girl from San Antonio. She sang Gilda in "Rigoletto" and her success was not much less than that of Tetrazzini when she first sang at the same opera house. This brilliant singer, it appears, has been coached by Pilar Moran, who is one of our most famous actresses, and who is unquestionably the leading authority on pantomime in this country. Pilar Moran has coached other artists for the San Carlo Opera Company, but none so great as Lucchese.

"Pomander Walk", Louis N. Parker's famous comedy of the five little houses on the Thames river, originally produced at Wallack's Theatre, New York, by George C. Tyler and given at Carmel's Forest Theatre last summer, has been secured by Russell Janney and will be produced as a musical offering.

The score will be by Hugo Felix, composer of "Lassie", "Pom Pom", and other successes, and the book is now being rearranged for musical comedy purposes by Catherine Chisholm Cushing. The lyrics will be by Brian Hooker.

Finland's famous composer and pianist, Selim Palmgren, was heard for the first time in New York recently in a piano recital of his own compositions. It was marked by a fervent welcome from the thousands who have played and sung his compositions, but who never before heard the master. Another Finland favorite, Madame Maikki Jaernefelt, gave a song recital with tremendous success. She sang many quaint Finnish folk songs.

o o o

The prospective appearance here in December of Alice Gentle, makes apropos the following item from a recent number of the New York Sun:

"There is a human and appealing quality about some voices, something that 'gets in all, large and small,' as a more pretentious versifier has put it. Alice Gentle has that gift, whether she happens to be singing a Russian or Japanese fantasia or just a simple English ballad. A remarkable program was rendered last night at Carnegie Hall by this American soprano, who retains all the goodly gifts of operatic training to help along her offerings in recital. It was enjoyed by a large audience."

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE CITY

OCTOBER 20, 1921

A PROBLEM FOR AMERICAN PARENTS.

In an effort to improve the class of American dance music, the chairman of music of the general federation of women's clubs of the United States, has sent out a circular throughout the country, asking the clubs to bring out the importance of good music in communities, and also to ask clergymen all over the country to take the right stand on that brand of music known as "jazz."

The following treatise on this matter, from the columns of one of the leading musical publications of the country, will be found of interest to those who take this matter at heart:
"Dancing to Mozart minuets, Strausz waltzes and Sousa two-steps would never lead to the corset-check room which now holds sway in hotels, clubs and dance halls. Nor would a girl who wore corsets in those days have been dubbed 'Old Ironsides' and left a disconsolate wall-flower in a corner of the ball room," says Mrs. Marx E. Obendorfer, national music chairman of the General Federation of Music Clubs.

The quotation above appears in an article entitled "Does Jazz Put the Sin in Sync-pation?" written by Mrs.
Obendorfer in the interest of better music. This article which appears in the August number of The Ladies' Home Journal, points out how music may become an influence for evil. It directs particular criticism to jazz.

Offering proof that jazz produces a definite demoralizing effect on the human brain, Mrs. Obendorfer continues: "Jazz, originally was the accompaniment of the Voodoo dancer, stimulating the half-crazed barbarian to the vilest deeds."

"After pointing out the evils created by jazz, Mrs. Obendorfer concludes with a plea for good music because of the help and inspiration it can and will give. She says: 'The Music Department of the General Federation of Music Clubs has taken for its motto: 'To Make Good Music Popular and Popular Music Good!'
The article shows how the women of America can help the club women carry out this motto in every home firmly, steadfastly, determinedly, until all the music in our land becomes an influence for good.

OUR STAND PLAIN

Washington is letting it be known here and abroad that the United States will not enter the conference on the limitation of armaments without a despairing and sentiment-driven determination to get results, no matter what the cost to America. Washington holds, and properly, that the United States will flourish, no matter what happens in the conference.

This country wants, demands and hopes arms limitation will come. We are not militarists. The American instinct is to hate the ways and works of war. The sentiment for disarmament comes up from the grass roots and down from the mountain tops. We are willing to go a long way to lessen armaments, but we are not going alone when we do go.

RUDOLPH'S
New MontereyLocal Art Exhibition
Continues Popular

The exhibition of small paintings at the Arts and Crafts Hall continues to offer a liberal entertainment for those who enjoy seeing the beauties of Carmel and its environs through the eye of the trained artist. A number of painters are represented, various mediums have been employed, the range of subject is wide, and there is no admission fee. There is not even a catalogue to be bought. And there is a cup of tea for such as thirst. Given so many attractions the exhibition hall should not lack for visitors.

Following the right hand wall as one enters, Thomas Parkhurst has the first group of paintings, all deliberately beautiful and rich in feeling.
Paul Mays goes in for color for col-or's sake, it would seem, and color is always a joyous thing. Nothing could be more unlike than Mr. Mays' clear, sweeping brush stroke and Gunnar Widforss' carefully drawn and delicately modulated water colors. Mr.
Seldeneck's peasant woman is broad in handling, the color subdued and pleasing. C. S. Price shows a horse, swiftly laid in and instinct with life.
Mary Green's sleeping child is convincing, giving an effect of complete abandon in the outstretched little figure. Sybil Emerson's studies seem to indicate that she is a pupil of Armin Hansen and that she is sincere and capable. Mr. Hansen's "Running for Home", with which he has latterly replaced one of his group of four, is by far his most interesting contribution.
The balancing of the light and dark masses, the simple strength of the figures, the cold wet color of the distance and the cold wet lighted deck that drops to the foreground—all this is excellent.

Going on around the room one finds many familiar names: DeNeale Morgan, whose work is so well known in Carmel as to call for no comment,
the Botkes (Cornelius and Jessie), whose landscapes are always decorative and whose decorations are always animated and interesting. Like the book reviewer, only a portion of the story is divulged. The exhibition naturally prefers to speak for itself.

The gallery is open every afternoon, including Sundays, from two to five.

Young America Sends Vast Relief To Needy Abroad

Various relief projects of the Junior American Red Cross in European countries resulted in helping 237,000 destitute children during the last fiscal year, according to the annual report of the American Red Cross for that period. The growth of the activities of the Juniors abroad is manifested by a comparison which shows this figure is 200,000 larger than that of the previous fiscal year.

The National Children's Fund raised by school children, members of the Junior American Red Cross, was drawn upon for $420,557 for these projects. Receipts for the National Children's Fund during the last fiscal year totalled $155,317.
